YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of Dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

ROAD AND SCHOOL LAWS.

Amongst the road laws enacted by the recent General Assembly there are two bills which were introduced by Judge Sims of Louisa, that are of general interest.

One provides for dividing roads of counties, whose boards of supervisors choose so to do, into divisions containing not less than ten nor more than thirty miles of roads, each sub-section to have in its territory those property owners who chiefly use the roads therein and giving to such property owners, by a majority vote— which vote shall include a majority of the free-holders therein—which road surveyor is practically a road section man—in such road sub-district, who shall discharge certain duties with respect to frequent repair work, as a section foreman does on a railroad, which duties are set forth in the act and include the uses of a drag or rut scraper over all of the roads of clay soil, or soil other than sand, in his road sub-district on an average of once per month after the thaw in the spring and after each heavy rain. Each road surveyor may be paid by contract or by force account as may be determined by the board of supervisors with respect to such work as he may do for it, and as may be determined by the sub-district road tax payers with respect to work done for them. Also, giving power to said tax payers, by said vote, if they choose, but not compelling them so to do, to vote annually an extra road tax for the exclusive benefit of the particular roads in such road sub-district.

This statute is two-fold in its object. It is designed to have purely repair work on roads done frequently and systematically by a local man selected by the tax payers and immediate road users of each neighborhood, providing that the now famous rut scraper or drag, invented by Mr Ward King, of Matiland, Mo., more than fifteen years ago, shall be put in use in Virginia, as it is in successful general use in many other states. And it gives opportunity for putting into practical effect the known fact that the majority of the tax payers and immediate users of a particular road are frequently perfectly willing to pay something extra for improvement of such particular road, and can see that it will pay them to do so, whereas they would object to an increase of the general county or district road tax.

The other modifies the general road law so as to give the State highway engineer general supervisory and advisory jurisdiction over boards of supervisors so as to co-ordinate the whole road system from top to bottom and tend to prevent the waste of a great deal of the $800,000 now being raised by local road taxation throughout the State; enables counties operating under general road law to use money raised by county and district road tax to comply with conditions of Lassiter-Withers road laws so as to obtain State aid in shape of convict and jail road force. Also provides a less expensive and more expeditious method of acquisition of rights of way for new roads and change of location of all roads; and, further, allows boards of supervisors to appoint district road superintendents; use them as foremen; allowing a supervisor to himself act in lieu of a district road superintendent or supplementary to the duties of same, and leaving it to discretion of board of supervisors whether it will go to expense of having a county superintendent of roads; thus making the general law more flexible to meet local conditions.

Among the school laws passed by the recent General Assembly there is one bill which was also introduced by Judge Sims, that is of general interest.

This statute provides that in counties (the law does not apply to cities) whose school board may so choose to do, the schools shall be divided into sub-districts (white and colored sub districts separate) with but one school in each sub-district, for power of tax payers annually to elect three school officers for such school, with certain powers not in conflict with the other school authorities, but supplementary thereto, with respect to the welfare of that particular school and toward insuring its efficiency. Also giving power to such tax payers, if they choose, but not compelling them so to do, to vote an extra tax for the benefit of that particular school, to be applied to improvement of the school building, grounds, &c., or adding to teaching force or studies taught, or otherwise, as the school sub-district tax payers may determine, so as to add to the efficiency of the school.

This will put the patrons of each school into more intimate connection with it and give them more control and a proper control over it, without interfering with the present school authorities. This it is sought to stimulate and sustain an interest on the part of patrons of our public schools which is generally and sadly lacking at present in many rural communities, and to give opportunity for putting into practical effect the known fact that a majority of the tax payers who are patrons of a particular school will frequently be willing to pay something extra for the improvement of their particular school and can see that it will pay them to do so rather than have to send their children to a private school, whereas they would object to an increase of the general county or district school tax.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 4, 1906.

A LETTER from Comorn, King George county, says:

The Legislators who voted to double the pay of law-makers are doomed to meet a frowning and angry constituency when they mingle with the "dear people." The passage of the bill to thus increase the pay of members of the General Assembly has actually, "enraged" voters and tax-payers as no other measure has, and they are by no means mealy-mouthed in expressing their disapproval and indignation. They say that candidates last fall declared that they were not actuated by the pay; their salary was not considered at all; but genuine patriotism and a burning desire to "serve the people" were the motive powers. Leading party workers said, when they read about the passage of the act, that they would make a list of those who voted for the increase and would see to it that not one of them should be elected again to any office. One of the leading democrats of this section of the State is already preparing a list and inaugurating a fight, so determined are they that the extravagant folks shall not hold office again.

There is no doubt that capital will be made out of the "salary grab" bill and doubtless the republicans will make it an issue. The members who voted for it were warned of the consequences, but they seemed to care little for the warning To the average Virginia farmer, and they constitute the majority of the voters, $500 for sixty days' service in the legislature is more money than four-fifths of the members could earn at any other avocation.

SPEAKER CANNON proposes to keep the "insurgents" in line by postponing the opening of the "pork barrel" until all danger of kicking over the traces shall have passed. There are appropriations of over $20,000,000 in the "barrel" for public buildings in the various Congressional districts, and the Representative who declines to "stand pat" will get no "pork." This, says the Philadelphia Record, is a beautiful arrangement for silencing tariff revisionists and others suspected of a design to make trouble for the G. O. P.

THE FALL elections will occur Nov. 6, and those who expect to vote for members of Congress and for other offices for which there may be vacancies, are required to pay their poll-taxes on or before May 6. The constitution provides that the taxes shall be paid six months before the day of election. The matter is thus early brought to the attention of the voters in order that there may be no rush the last few days and causing some to be shut out by reason of absence from the city or for other reasons.

UNPRECEDENTED is said to be the activity in the shipyards of the Delaware river. The three great yards are crowded to their utmost capacity with work, and since the beginning of the year nineteen vessels of every sort have been completed and thirty-nine vessels are now in process of construction. Altogether shipbuilding does not look like an object of charity, a claimant upon the national bounty, and disproves the claim that subsides are necessary for the building of American vessels.

JUDGE FITE caused consternation in society circles in Dalton, Ga., yesterday, when he charged the grand jury to indict all persons who play bridge and euchre for prizes or money. The judge was caustic in his remarks in regard to what he called "society gambling," and practically ordered the grand jury to return indictments. Judge Barley had summoned a special grand jury in the Corporation Court of this city today, but the court proceedings are silent as to any charge concerning "society gambling."

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, April 4.

Resolutions were adopted unanimously at the convention of railway commissioners today in favor of a court review of rate making by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The essential part of the resolutions read as follows: "Your committee desires to repeat and emphasize the recommendations heretofore made by this association, and to urge the endorsement at this convention of such legislation as will so enlarge the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission that it shall have authority to correct any rate, regulation, or practice, in relation to the transportation of interstate commerce which may be found, after investigation, to be unreasonable as unjustly discriminatory, and to substitute a just and reasonable rate regulation or practice in lieu thereof and that its orders in relation thereto shall become effective. Such legislation, however, shall carefully preserve to the carrier the protection by the courts of all its rights under the Constitution." H. Warner Hill, of Georgia, chairman of the railway commission, presented the resolution in a report on amendments to the act to regulate commerce. In defense of the Interstate Commerce Commission being given the power to fix rates he said: "As few traffic officials, who represent the great railroad systems of the country, now fix them, and surely, if the commission is composed of men experienced in ratemaking, of men of high character and ability, of men impartial and upright, who see not only one side, but both sides of each case, seeking solely to find what is just and right between carrier and shipper, then surely any commission appointed by the President of the United States and confirmed by the Senate could be relied upon to do equal and exact justice to shipper and carrier alike." The resolution introduced by Prof. B. H. Meyer, of Wisconsin, yesterday, calling upon Congress to direct the interstate commerce commission, or some department of the federal government, to ascertain the inventory value of all railways in the United States and to fix the valuation on the railroad property in each state separately, was unanimously adopted today. Another resolution adopted was that requesting Congress to pass a law requiring railroads engaged in interstate commerce to prepare and adopt a uniform classification of freight articles, and in case they failed to do so within two years after the passage of the act, that the interstate commerce commission shall make such classification.

The drydock Dewey is sailing through the Mediterranean sea in a manner that makes the naval officers here most jubilant. A dispatch from Commander Hosley, in charge of the tow, dated at Malta yesterday, was received this morning at the Navy Department. The dock was reported at 6 p. m. Tuesday at latitude 36:45 north, longitude 13:45 east, which is some distance west of Malta. A dispatch from the New York Board of Underwriters received this morning conveyed a dispatch from that board's agent at Malta stating that the dock had passed the island during the night. Commander Hosley's message concluded with the words "prospect is more promising." On this basis of progress the dock, which passed Gibralter a week ago Sunday, has traversed in nine days a distance of 980 nautical miles, or considerably over 100 miles a day. This speed is in excess of the four knots an hour which the Navy Department hoped the dock would make on her long voyage. She has now 940 miles to cover between Malta and Port Said, her next stop. The trip from Gibralter to Malta, through the treacherous waters south of Sicily, the most perilous part of the Mediterranean, was considered here the critical part of the dock's second stage on the journey to the Philippines. Until she reaches Port Said the dock will have a clear seaway, the narrowest portion being that between the Island of Crete and Africa, where the Mediterranean is four hundred miles wide.

Recent reports received by the State Department from its agents in China show that conditions in the Celestial Empire are improving. The stringent orders issued about two months ago by the Emperor of China to the various viceroys to take drastic steps to prevent any further uprising against foreigners or against the federal government of China are, it is said, proving effective. It is now the opinion of the officials of the State Department that the general uprising which, two months ago, was so confidently predicted, will not occur, at least in the immediate future.

The date set by Russia for the convening of the second Hague conference, the first half for July, is acceptable to the state department. So soon as the full draft of the programme proposed by Russians received here, the American delegation will meet with Secretary Root and arrange what if any additional subjects the government shall propose for discussion. Former Ambassador Choate, General Horace Porter and Judge Rose will probably leave for Europe about the middle of June.

The argument on behalf of the government in the appeal of Senator Joseph R. Burton on alleged error in his trial at St. Louis was commenced today by Assistant Attorney General Robb. Mr. Robb's discussion of the case went into all the errors claimed by the appellant, and disposed of each of them as presented to the court. Mr. Robb concluded his argument with a citation of authority in support of the constitutionality of the statutes under which Senator Burton was convicted.

Fred D. Whitridge, of New York, who will represent this government at the wedding of King Alfonzo, of Spain, called upon Secretary Root and Assistant Secretary Bacon today, and conferred with them upon the part he will take in the ceremonies attending the royal ceremonies.

The life, work and character of Robert E. Lee, the great southern warrior, were lauded in flowery words by members of the Confederate Veterans' Association of Washington yesterday at the opening exercises or "housewarming" of their new hall in the Maryland building, 1412 H street. John T. Callahan is president of the association, and after an invocation by the chaplain, Rev. R. H. McKim, of Epiphany Church, he introduced Hilary A. Herbert, a former president of the society, and former Secretary of the Navy, who made an address. Other speeches were made by Major Holmes Conrad and Col. J. C. Haskell, the latter of South Carolina.

Earl Grey, the governor general of Canada, and Lady Grey, will visit Mount Vernon and the tomb of Washington tomorrow, in company with Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, and a party composed of ladies and gentlemen who have acted as hosts and entertainers of the distinguished guests during their stay in Washington. The party will go to Mount Vernon on the President's dispatch boat Dolphin.

Advocating the national incorporation of railroads as the best remedy for the railroad situation, Senator Newlands, of Nevada, addressed the Senate this afternoon. The Hepburn-Dolliver bill, he said, should go further than it does and provide against over capitalization of the railroad properties. It should frankly recognize, he continued, the economic necessity of consolidation and combination, and the monopoly character of the business. He would have the Interstate Commerce Commission fix the valuation of the railroad properties and the amount of bonds and stock issued. "Government management," he said, "may not be economical, but the time may come when the people will regard quality of service as of more importance than economy of service The plan of national incorporation would give the country the benefits of government ownship with none of its dangers."

Anderson, of Mosspoint, Miss., has been granted the exclusive right for fifty years to dispose of all pine timbers throughout the Atlantic litoral of Nicaragua on uncultivated national lands. He is allowed to use streams and build roads for transportation, erect sawmills, extract turpentine for export, and may import, free of duty, all kinds of machinery and provisions needed. Dr. Anderson is to pay for the concession $500,000 in gold, in instalments, beginning with $5,000 a year. He has the right to transfer the concession, but no cause for an international claim is to be considered and possible difficulties must be settled by arbitration. The Weinberger contract in representation of the Bluefield Steamship Company has been renewed by Nicaragua with limitations. This concession continues the company in the exclusive right of navigation of the Esco dido river and its affluents, comprising territory wholly taken up for the cultivation of bananas.

President Roosevelt received a call this morning from Lieut. Edward Scharrer and his bride, who were recently married at Pasadena, Cal., under rather sensational conditions. Representative Bartholdt, of Missouri, presented the bride and groom to the President Mrs. Scharrer told the President that her father sent word that he hoped he would "remain President for life." The President laughed at this quite heartily and added that Mr. Busch was a very good friend of his. Lieutenant and Mrs. Scharrer are now on their way to Stuttgart, where they will make their home.

THE CHICAGO ELECTION.

Under the result of the election held in Chicago yesterday, in which the question of municipal ownership of the street railways was the vital issue, the city of Chicago can proceed to acquire and control the railways, but cannot operate them. At the same time the voters, while declaring that the city shall not proceed to operate the railroads, declared that as a question of public policy it would be desirable for the city to do so.

Three propositions were submitted to the voters, the first of which was:

"Shall the city of Chicago proceed to operate street railways?"

This proposition required 60 per cent. of the total vote cast in order to become effective The total vote was, approximately 231,000. Of this number the proposition to proceed to the immediate operation of the street railways secured but 121,000 votes—about 17,000 short of the necessary three-fifths.

The second proposition involved the approval of an ordinance previously passed by the city council providing for the issue of street-railway certificates in amount not to exceed $75,000,000 for the purchase, ownership and maintenance of the street railways.

This was carried by about 3,800 votes.

The election was one of the most interesting to Chicago voters that has been held in many years, The vote was much larger than had been expected, and all day the contest for and against municipal ownership was bitterly fought.

Party lines were largely ignored, and the eligibility of candidates depended more upon their attitude toward municipal operation of street cars and high licenses for saloons than upon their party records.

Of the 35 aldermen who were elected yesterday, Mayor Dunne claims that 19 are avowed champions of municipal ownership.

The faction opposed to municipal ownership declares that they still hold the control of the council, and that Mayor Dunne will have no greater success in the future than he has had in the past.

Besides the question of municipal ownership the issue was made in many of the aldermanic contests of whether the saloon licenses of the city shall be $500 or $1,000.

The liquor interests made a strong fight against every alderman who was up for re-election who had voted for the license of $1,000. Of the 15 men against whom they put their influence 12 were elected and 3 defeated. Of the nine aldermen up for re-election who voted for the continuance of the $500 license all were returned to their seats in the council. There is little danger, however, that the high license will be repealed.

The total vote cast on the question of municipal ownership was 231,171. Of this number 120,911 was cast in favor of municipal operation of the street railways, and 110,260 against it. In order to become binding the proposition to operate the railways should have received 138,703 votes. It, therefore, fell short of the required number by 17,792 votes.

The proposition to issue $75,000,000 in street railway certificates was carried by a vote of 110,008 against 106,669. The question of public policy was carried by a vote of 111,862 to 108,025.

Today's Telegraphic News

Situation More Hopeful.

New York, April 4.—The anthracite miners' scale committee met today at the Ashland House to prepare plans for bringing about a settlement of the existing differences in the hard coal fields. While no member of the committee will discuss how this adjustment is to be effected, it is learned that certain demands, which the operators have already refused, will either be eliminated or so modified that the operators will accept them without feeling that they have stultified themselves in their position of conceding anything. There are surface indications of war in the anthracite regions but there is a current making for peace which appears to be growing stronger.

The anthracite scale committee are willing to concede most anything for the sake of a settlement, with the possible exception of the eight hour day. Dispatches from every where in the region show that the miners are hoping for peace and are opposed to a strike. It is this desire for peace that is influencing the scale committee here in their deliberations. One member of the scale committee, while in this city at the last conference, said: "Of course the men would be glad to have an increase in wages. That would be natural in any body of employees, but I am not sure that there is a crying need for such an increase nor would I be willing to say that the men are insistent for union recognition. I do know that an eight hour day is wanted by the outside men and it is necessary for us to secure it."

The operators while indicating that they will concede nothing will not place themselves in the position of bringing on a strike when the granting of one demand might avert it. Each side is anxious to keep the good will of the public.

The conference tomorrow will probably be not the concluding one, for it will take some time before all the questions can be argued and each side make its position clear and unmistakable. Whatever may be the outcome it can be said that so far the personal relationship of the conferrees has been most pleasant.

It was said today that the scale committee are strongly opposed to a continuance of operations under the award of the anthracite commission, that in the event all their demands were refused and the delegates to the Hazelton convention indicate that they were opposed to a strike, they will advocate that the men then return to work without an agreement so that each colliery, if necessary to settle its own difficulties, may go on strike.

Shamokin, Pa., April 4.—Mine workers here were disappointed when they heard that the New York conference of their committee with that of the operators was unproductive of results. They hope for a speedy end to the negotiations. None of the collieries made an effort to work this morning and there were no desertions from the union ranks.

Hazelton, Pa., April 4.—Mine workers hereabouts are bitterly disappointed over the failure of the New York conference to give some hope for peace. A prominent mine workers' leader last night gave out an interview to the effect that there will be no strike and that the operators and the miners will come to an amicable understanding tomorrow.

Miner Rescued.

Lens, France, April 4.—One additional survivor of the mine disaster in which 1,300 lost their lives was taken from the wrecked Sallai mine, next to the Courrieres mine, this morning. Berthou is the name of the rescued miner, and he had been underground for 25 days when found today. The man was in a pitiable condition and could scarcely walk or talk.

It is commonly reported among the great crowd which gathered about the mine as soon as news of another rescue spread that nine other men had been rescued. So far Berthou is the only living man to be sent to the surface and it is believed the reports of a additional rescues arose from the fact that he was probably found near a group of bodies of men who had only recently died or were dying when discovered by the rescuers. The finding of Berthom has caused additional rescue parties to be sent into the mine in the hope that other men may be found, especially as it is reported that knockings have been heard.

Berthou's sufferings exceeded those of the thirteen others rescued. Several men were cut off with him by the explosion, and they wandered about the black galleries for days seeking some opening through which they might escape. Death came to relieve some of the members of the little party.

To his rescuers, Berthou made the horrible confession that when their food became exhausted, the miners turned cannibals and devoured the corpses of two boy apprentices found in the mine.

Later news from the scene throws light on the conflicting reports which were afloat this morning about the number of miners rescued. It appears that a group of nine men were found insensible, but showing signs of life.

Balloon Found.

Fire Island, N. Y, April 4.—Captain Austin, of the Jones Beach life saving station, reports that a large balloon, all complete, was found on the beach there at 10 o'clock last night. The baloon has the name P. Nocquet, No. 55 East 59th street, on the basket. The balloon alighted on the sand close to the water's edge. A long track in the sand showed that the basket had been dragged some distance. Captain Austin says there were several footprints around the place where the balloon was found. He says apparently there were many persons around it. No one can be found, however, and the life savers are making a search. Paul Nocquet, a daring French aeronaut who came here from Paris about two years ago, made an ascension yesterday afternoon in a specially constructed balloon from the Central Union Gas Works at 138th street and Walnut avenue, in the Bronx, and was last seen abour eight o'clock last night sailing easterly above the north shore of Long Island. The balloon found is thought to be that used by the Frenchman, who is believed to have descended safely.

Stabbed to Death.

Atlanta, Ga., April 4.—Jealous because Mrs. Carrie Bryant, with whom he was madly infatuated, went back to her husband, from whom she had parted, L. B. Wilmouth, a young unmarried man, aged 30, fired five shots at her with his pistol. One of them hit her in the hip inflicting a painful, but not fatal, injury. Her unmarried brother, Frank Hightower, a life-long chum of Wilmouth, saw the deed. He attacked the man with a chair, followed it with shots from a derringer, chasing Wilmouth up the street, shooting at him. He caught his sister's assailant and they began a hand to hand fight in the gutter. Hightower got his knife out and stabbed Wilmouth to death. Hightower then gave himself up to the police.

Bellamy Storer's Recall.

Vienna, April 4.—The recall of Bellamy Storer, the retiring U. S. Ambassador to Austria-Hungary, is still the subject of unabated discussion here. The correspondent of the Publishers Press is in a position to deny the reports which have been sent out to the effect that Mrs. Storer assisted the French Ambassador to Vienna, the Marquis Reversaux, in his clerical intrigue. On the contrary, Mrs. Storer offended Marquis Reversaux by attacking the anti-clerical policy of the French government to the archduke Franz Ferdinand in the presence of the French Ambassador at the American Embassy.

Duel with Revolvers.

Mount Carmel, Pa., April 4.—In a battle with revolvers and stilletos following the assault on his wife at their boarding house, at Marion Heights, near here, during a celebration early this morning, Antonio Bressie was shot throught the lungs by his enraged brother-in-law, Crego Verano. He will die. Bressie's brother Frank was fatally wounded and two others stabbed.

Methodist Conference.

The closing session of the Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the Madison Avenue Church, Baltimore, yesterday was a busy one and lasted from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

A number of reports were read and approved, but one of the unlooked for developments of the day was the preferring of charges of dishonesty against Rev. J. W. Steele, of Washington, superintendent of the Central Union Mission of that city, by his wife, who charged that her husband had run up a number of unusual debts by means of false pretense and that she had to pay them.

The matter was placed in the hands of a committee to make an investigation. The committee appointed to investigate the case of Rev. George H. Corry, of Washington, who was charged with violation of morals by Rev. Job Price, of that city, reported that the charged was based on Rev. Corry's wife having secured a divorce on the grounds of nonsupport and that Rev. Corry had appeared personally and explained the situation. In view of that, the committee reported, they did not feel that they could pass upon the question and the matter was referred to Bishop Wilson, who will appoint one of the presiding elders to give Rev. Corry a trial. The finding in the case of Rev. Corry was reported to the Conference and ordered spread upon the minutes.

Rev. J. A. Jeffers was appointed to Trinity Church, this city, and Rev. Wm. Pierpoint to Arlington, in the county.

Hutzler, Richmond; secretary, Joseph L. Levy, Richmond; Sidney Teiser, Norfolk, Va.; Solomon Herzog, Washington, D. C; Marcus W. Jacobi, Wilmington, N. C. These were chosen deputies: L. The "President's Amendment."

The speech which Senator Long, of Kansas, intended to deliver in the Senate Monday on the court review phases of railroad-rate legislation, but which was postponed until yesterday, developed an almost sensational running debate when delivered in the Senate. Mr. Long occupied nearly three hours for his speech, and of this time one-third was consumed by a running battle, in which Senators Knox, Foraker, Bacon, Tillman, Bailey and Culberson focused their attention upon the Kansan, and incidentally upon venerable Senator Allison, of Iowa, who came to the rescue of Mr. Long when the other Senators used their levers in an attempt to have the occurrences of the White House conference of Saturday officially lifted into the Senate for criticism.

The feeling on both sides of the Senate respecting this conference has been one of resentment ever since the announcement of its results on Sunday morning. Only a few republicans were at the conference, and democrats and other republicans not invited have privately protested against the holding of a conference, which was not only partisan, but so exclusively so that many of the President's own partisans in the Senate were not taken into his confidence.

As a climax of an interesting discussion about Saturday's White House conference, Senator Bailey announced sarcastically but complacently that he wanted "publicly to complain" because democrats had not been invited to help put into shape the White House amendment.

"It almost passed my belief when I saw the statement in the newspapers of what had been done," said he. "The Hepburn bill would never have been reported from the interstate commerce committee without the help of democratic votes and without the almost unanimous support of this side it will be impossible to write this bill into the statute books."

Mr. Bailey indulged in a criticism of the President for taking part in the conference, saying that the constitution provides a way for the chief executive to communicate with the Senate, and that it did not contemplate that he should merely invite a few friends, all of his own party, to consider contemplated legislation.

The Late Rev. Quincy Wheat.

Rev. Quincy A. Wheat died Sunday morning in Staunton where he and Mrs. Wheat had been boarding since last September when they came to Staunton from Port Republic. Mr. Wheat had been a sufferer from rheumatism for years and for the last nine months had been entirely helpless. He was 62 years old. At the early age of 17 he enlisted in Captain McNeil's company and later was in the signal service. He was licensed to preach in 1868 and served the early part of his ministry in the West Virginia conference, being the secretary of the conference for nine years, and being then transferred to the Baltimore conference. He was a devout student, especially of chronological history, being the author of "Travels on an Old Road," "Out of Old Ruts," and of a chronological chart not yet published. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Fannie Virginia Beard, one sister, Mrs. Annie Wheat Frazer, of Washington, and one brother, Mr. Cassius Wheat. Mr. Wheat's mother died just 11 years to the day before his death. A short funeral service was conducted at the rooms of Messrs. Hamrick & Co., Monday afternoon by Rev. Frazier Furr and the remains were taken to Ronceverte, West Virginia, accompanied by the wife and Mrs. C. C. Wheat.—[Staunton Dispatch.

The deceased was a native of Alexandria, and will be remembered by many of the older residents. He passed his early years here, and upon arriving at manhood (about the close of the civil war) he embarked with the late D. L. Smoot in the real estate and insurance business in this city. He was later ordained a minister, after which he ceased to be a resident of Alexandria, although he made occasional visits to his old home.

The Fishing Season.

The mild spring weather and southerly winds of today have caused fishermen and others who will engage in the business this season to cherish hopes that shad and herring will soon appear high up in the Potomac. So far but few have forged their way out of salt water, although they are being caught in larger numbers. A vessel load from the lower river passed up yesterday. They were consigned to R. A. Golden & Co., of Washington. Merchants here are still receiving small lots of fresh fish, although but few shad and herring are among the consignments.

Prices in market this morning showed no variation from those given yesterday. The shad offered are fine and solid, as is generally the case at the beginning of the season.

Alexandria fishermen are catching many pan fish, mostly yellow perch and the smaller varieties of the finny tribe. A number of German carp were taken yesterday. The demand, however, for this species is by no means brisk. One herring was caught near this city yesterday.

As has been stated, everything is in readiness at Fishtown for the business, but no fish had been received there this morning.

Mrs. Walker G. Brown Miller was granted a divorce from Clinton R. Miller.

Strother vs. S. B. Fisher, exr., and assignee; decree dismissing bill.

The following special grand jury was sworn: S. H. Lunt, foreman; DeW. Aitcheson, H. F. Wheat, J. P. Robinson, S. L. Monroe, T. A. Fisher, H. Kirk, jr., C. W. O'Meara and W. A. Smoot. The grand jury returned true bills to the following indictments. Wm. Pye, colored, assault on Roland Lambeth; Wm. Hansborough, alias Si. Compton, criminal assault upon his mother; Clarence Hanson and Hildred Bush, colored, breaking into a store; John Whalan, forgery; James Mudd, larceny of a watch; Fred Durndridge, bigamy; Wm. Brooks, colored, breaking into a dwelling; Thos. Alexander, colored, breaking into a dwelling. The case of Jack Ryan, charged with being connected with the Curtin murder, was not presented, the Commonwealth's Attorney not being ready.

Destitute Children.

A few weeks ago James Mudd, who had been arrested on suspicion of stealing a watch from the person of a railroad man named Dodd, was sent on to the grand jury by Justice Caton in the Police Court. Today he was indicted by that tribunal. Mudd has a wife and three children, the youngest being an infant. Yesterday the wife received a permit to enter the alms house, but shortly after she had installed herself in that institution she vanished and her whereabouts were unknown until this morning when she reappeared at her home. The children, who had been left in a house in this city, were taken to the police station. They were afterwards turned over to the Associated Charities Association.

Italians Fined.

There was a free-for-all fight last Sunday among Italians at Franconia, Fairfax county, a short distance below this city, in which beer bottles were used as cudgels. Yesterday Constable A. J. Payne proceeded to Accotink where he arrested six of the participants. They gave their names and numbers as follows: Luigi Lorenzo, 1410; Bucello Zaetam, 1504; Guiseppe Riull, 1656; Louis Lorenzo, 1410; Butchrt Guytano, 1504, and George Ricello, 1656. They were arraigned before Justice Triplett, who fined three of the party $5 each. The contractor became responsible for the fines and costs of the case and the men were liberated.

Lecture.

Mr. W. H. H. Smith, of Washington, will deliver a lecture on the "Life of Christ" in Christ Church Parish Hall tonight. The lecture will be illustrated by one hundred and fifty stereioptieon views, which have been made from famous paintings of noted artists. A small admission will be asked at the door.

Case Continued.

As was stated in the Gazette, W. K. Martin, chief engineer of the Washington-Southern Railway Company, and Francis J. Hill, of the firm of Reiter, Curtis & Hill, railway contractors, were cited to appear before Justice J. E. Supplee, of Del Ray, Alexandria county, yesterday on warrants of trespass, sworn out by the Misses Swann, who live near Fourmile Run. Mr. Martin and Col. Francis L. Smith, the attorney for the railway company, and Mr. Hill and his counsel, Mr. S. G. Brent, were on hand, but on motion of Mr. Brady of Washington, who represented the complainant, the hearing was continued until April 23. The Misses Swann own about seventeen acres of land on the river front near Four-mile Run, and the construction of the freight yards north of Alexandria made it necessary to close up the private roads leading to their property. Efforts to settle the matter out of court were unsuccessful, and a commission appointed by the Circuit Court to condemn the property awarded the owners $500 less than the railway company had offered. It is understood that the railway company, to avoid friction with the Misses Swann, offered them $25,000 for their property some time ago, but the proposition was not accepted.

Fight Among Survivors.

Eleven survivors of the wrecked Italian bark Antonio, who were being cared for at Cape Henry life saving station, went on a rampage Monday night. Some of the men had been drinking. Reports from the Cape say that several were seriously injured in a fight at the station. The Norfolk authorities were asked for assistance, and a special car bearing United States Deputy marshals was sent to the Cape to bring the men, seven Italians and four Americans, to Norfolk. Four of the men were badly injured, one sustaining a fractured skull. The life savers endeavored to stop the fighting, but when the deputy marshals arrived from Norfolk the trouble was over and quiet had been restored. No arrests were made. As had been stated, the Antonio was bound from Uruguay with a load of bones to the Bryant Fertilizer Company of this city. The vessel, it is believed, will prove a total loss.

Pianos and Organs.

The Cable Company, which has recently installed an agency at 612 King street, has one of the most attractive ware-rooms in this section. The pianos and organs manufactured by this company are in use in thousands of American homes, and all with one accord are profuse in their praises of these instruments. Those who contemplate adding a piano or organ to their household effects should visit the Alexandria agency and examine the instruments on exhibition. Their tone is satisfactory and the finish unexcelled. Mr. C. W. O'Meara is the Alexandria agent, and he will take pleasure in exhibiting the instruments and explaining their merit.

No Advance in Prices.

The dealers of this city have not advanced the prices of coal. Several years ago, during the prevalence of a strike in mid-winter which caused no little distress in many parts of the country, it will be remembered that consumers in Alexandria experienced practically no difficulty in having their immediate wants met. Dealers in some cases refused to sell their stocks to parties outside of the city when offered tempting advances over normal prices, and continued to supply their actual customers at old rates.

River Notes.

The steamer Newport News of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company has gone to the Newport News shipyard, where she will receive her spring painting and cleaning up in preparation for the summer season. Besides being painted throughout, the interior of the steamer is to be redecorated. It is expected the steamer will be at Newport News for about a week or ten days, and when she returns the steamer Washington will be sent to the shipyard for her spring over-hauling.

W. C. T. U.

The ladies of the Allison W. C. T. U. will hold a social tomorrow afternoon at the Children's Home on Duke street, and hope to have a large attendance, including all of the new members and all the ladies of the city who are interested in the work. There will be a short programme consisting of music, recitations and a short talk from the president. The social will be from 3 until 5 o'clock.

The regular prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock as usual.

Fire in a Dwelling.

A fire in a rear room of the residence of Mr. J. A. Cogan, 109 north Royal street, shortly before noon today caused some damage, and had it not been for prompt action upon the part of Mr. Allen Cogan, a member of the Columbia Fire Company, and others a serious conflagration would have resulted. The fire is supposed to have been started by a spark from a stove which set fire to the mantlepiece. The flames were invading an adjoining room when discovered.

Beer Contains Little Alcohol.

The advertisement of the Portner Brewing Company in another column is interesting from a statistical and educational viewpoint. It shows the amount of alcohol in various popular beverages, and it will surprise many to learn that beer has less than any, not even excepting cider. The table showing the comparative food value of beef and other foods is also instructive.

Police Court.

There was no session of the Police Court this morning, Justice Caton having been called out of the city. There are several cases on the docket, all misdemeanors, and they will be disposed of at a session of the court to be held at 7 o'clock tonight. Among the cases to be tried will be that of Edward Clark, who is charged with shooting at an Italian recently.

The monthly meeting of the directors of the Alexandria Free Kindergarten was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Edward Stabler. An effort is being made to secure interesting speakers for the annual meeting to be held the last of this month. The following subscriptions have been paid since the last report: Carter Bros., Mrs. Wm. J. Boothe and Mrs. Wm. Boothe, jr., Mrs. Bader, Mr. Frank Carlin, Mrs. G. W. Jameson, Mrs. Stewart Jameson, Miss Mary Taylor, Miss Fanny Burke $1 each, and Mrs. J. T. Burke, $10. The management desire to return thanks to Mr. G. B Kennedy for tuning the piano; also to Mr. W. O. Tomlin and Mr. Jos. F. Rodgers for work contributed.

Returned the Money.

Finding $1,180 under a car seat of the Arlington and Falls Church road recently and receiving $10 reward was the experience of Edward Dey, a car cleaner. Dey found the money in a car at Ballston and had it two days and might have kept it, but he reported the find to the company. In a short while they located the owner, William Durant, of Vienna. Durant had just sold his little farm and needed the money. In returning it to the owner he said: "I don't think a man is entitled to anything for being honest." He says he is satisfied with the $10 reward.

Committed Suicide.

P. H. Carr, jr., who formerly lived at Waterford, Loudoun county, a conductor on the Fourteenth street railway, shot himself in the head last night, in Washington. He went to a room of the Commercial Hotel, where the act was committed. He left two letters, one to his mother and the other to Miss Zella E. Arnold, of Virginia, who is supposed to have been his sweetheart. It is thought that disappointment in love led to the suicide. Carr was 24 years old.

Dr. W. H. Wiley, Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, agrees with Pasteur, that BEER is a "veritable food product." He dwells particularly on the fact that the small quantity of alcohol contained therein must be regarded as a food ingredient, saying: "It has been clearly demonstrated that when given in moderate quantities, the whole of the alcohol injected into the stomach is converted into heat during the process of digestion and assimilation."

Passing of Dowie.

Amazing revelations picturing John Alexander Dowie in the light of a Dr. Jeykll and Mr. Hyde, were made at Zion City yesterday as the denouement of the rebellion rampant there.

Self-accusing writings purporting to be from the first apostle's own hand and supposedly dragged from the secrecy of his private vault, have been given publicity by a committee appointed by Zionites for the purpose of clearing the atmosphere of the blight of immorality they charge has long contaminated it.

Dowie, it was learned in Zion City, caused divorce papers against his wife to be drawn up before he left for Jamaica. The grounds on which he proposed to sue could not be learned, but the announcement of Dowie's intention caused amazement. No breath of scandal has ever touched Mrs. Dowie's reputation.

It developed that Dowie and his wife first became estranged during the World's Fair in Chicago, when the so-called "doctor" insisted on the practice of the confessional after his services. Several matters, it is said, were brought to the notice of Mrs. Dowie, who decided to leave the Christian Catholic cult. She begged her husband to forego that part of his preaching dealing with full confessions. He held out that that was part of the glorious duty to which he had been assigned.

Extracts of a letter written to a Mrs. Ware by Dowie have fallen into the hands of a deacon of the church, who advocated the suspension of Dowie more than a year ago. The letter contained the following.

"Venomous tongues shall be torn from their roots, the people shall not hearken to vile slander. If in the sacred presence of Jehovah I prayed for the complete cleansing of a soiled body it is a matter between God and me. The Divine Will prompted such measures as were thought fit in the treatment of your case, and as a servant of the Lord I carried them out. I have no recollection, in fact, of what occurred beyond the knowledge that my own soul was contaminated in a degree in saving yours. I paid your debts at the instigation of God. I cleansed your body at His command."

Suicide of Barber's Wife.

Because her husband appeared to manifest more affection for his daughter Elsa, eleven years old, than for herself, Mrs. Blanche Puegner, wife of Alfred Puegner, who conducts a barber shop on north Greene street, Baltimore, committed suicide Monday night by shooting herself in the right temple with a .22-caliber revolver. Her body was discovered by her husband, who returned to his home about midnight, after having attended a meeting of the union of which he is a member. Upon the table in the kitchen was a note written in French and addressed in Mrs. Puegner's writing to her husband. According to the translation Puegner made of the note, it purported to say that Mrs. Puegner had committed suicide because her husband had manifested more affection for their eleven-year-old daughter than he had for his wife. The husband was not blamed in the letter. Mrs. Puegner continued that she was fifty years old and was tired; she had lived long enough under the prevailing circumstances. She said that she wanted a life of more tranquility, and with that view had taken her own life.

A Curious Case.

In the case of Mrs. Emma Giller, 45 years old, of New York, the physicians of St. John's Hospital, Long Island, are confronted with a peculiar problem. Mrs. Giller was removed to the institution Saturday, and it was discovered that the calf of her right leg was growing together with the calf of her left leg. Mrs. Giller said that several years ago she was bitten in the hand by a mad dog. She thought nothing of the incident at that time, but when, several weeks later, it began to pain her, she went to a doctor, who told her that to cure the ailment she was to return home and bandage her legs together. For several months she kept her legs in that position. Little by little they grew together, and it caused Mrs. Giller such inconvenience that she was forced to call in a specialist.

A Young Mother of 70.

"My mother has suddenly become young at 70. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until six months ago, when she began taking Electric Bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Me. Greatest restorative medicine on the globe. Sets Stomach, Liver and Kidneys right, purifies the blood and cures Malaria, Biliousness and Weaknesses. Wonderful Nerve Tonic. Price 50c. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Gibson and Timberman and W. F. Creighton and Company.
